HOW IT LOOKS FROM A CORNER

By BILL KATZ

Good county government received a blow this week at a so-called "special meeting" of the county planning commission.

The commission failed to notify the spokesmen of some 900 Broadmoor residents of a meeting which was of vital interest to them. In fact, until the meeting opened, many were under the impression that it was closed to the public.

Once in session, the commissioners declared it to be an open meeting and approved a connecting street between Broadmoor and Westlake.

According to our best information, the commissioners had earlier advised Broadmoor residents that they would be notified of any such meeting. No notification was given. None of the commissioners contacted had any comment.

Further details can be found in another story on this page.

We would like to know why the Broadmoor home owners were not notified. We would like to know what right the commission has to take such high handed action.

We haven't been able to find an answer to any of these questions. However, we believe some explanation is due.

This isn't a question of the issue involved, but rather of the means to have it approved. When the commissioners get the idea they can push around the people, look out.

She was from El Cerrito, and had a fetching story about being able to tell the future and past. She would tell all for a few pieces of silver.

Dropping into the Theatre Grill, the lady from El Cerrito offered to give advice on love, marriage and business, simply by consulting the palms of those then in the establishment.

"There is nothing so difficult, but what I can not explain," she said.

Unimpressed, Mrs. Spoulos rung up the local gendarmes. A few minutes later the fortune teller from El Cerrito was on her way home.

Seems it's not legal to consult the fates in Daly City. Pity, though; the gal from El Cerrito might have saved a good many dollars for local lads who placed bets on Tuesday's primary.

Pardon our Greek, but this week we picked up one of the most fascinating books on war we've ever read. It was written by one Xenophon some 2400 years ago. (Continued on Page 2)

90c Month Gas Rate Increase Asked By PG&E

Increased costs occasioned primarily by the importation of natural gas from Texas and New Mexico, a distance of 1600 miles, will require an increase of $15,600,000 in gas rates for Northern and Central California, effective January 1, 1951.

An application requesting this increase was filed with the Public Utilities Commission today by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company. The increase will be spread over almost a million customers, and, according to officers of the company, will add less than three cents a day to the average household bill.

Taxes, according to the company, will take 40 per cent of the proposed increase, leaving $9,360,000 as the net addition in revenue to the company.

The company is making an investment of more than $63,000,000 in order to bring this new supply of natural gas into Northern and Central California.

"The new supply," said W. G. B. Euler, vice-president and general manager of the company, "is urgently needed."

"The growth of population and industry in Northern and Central California during the war and since has greatly increased the annual consumption of gas in the PG&E service area. This has resulted in a steady depletion of the gas reserves available to the company in the Rio Vista and Sacramento and San Joaquin valley fields. In the meantime there (Continued on Page 2)

BOCCI TOPS RAPSEY

Whitmore Downs McGrath; Hall vs. Tormey In Runoff This November

Thomas L. Bocci today is the new justice of the peace for the First Township. He defeated Rudolph Rapsey by 1,222 votes in Tuesday's primary.

Out of three north end men seeking county positions (Bob Duffy for recorder, and Leo Ferko for assessor), Bocci was the only one to score.

But of more interest to the county as a whole was the surprise upset of Sheriff James McGrath.

Earl B. Whitmore, 32-year-old Redwood City policeman, topped McGrath by 1,537 votes Tuesday. This was McGrath's first defeat in 23 years, and he will have to enter the finals in November if he is to keep his job.

Also going into the November finals will be Henry C. Hall and James B. Tormey, neither of whom secured enough votes to give them a majority in their bid for school superintendent. Hall, assistant superintendent of schools, took first place with 30,693 votes. Tormey ran a close second with 27,953 votes.

Except for these two contests, all other candidates were elected with a large majority and will not have to face the November runoffs.

Judge Murray Draper received the largest majority vote with 50,137 votes as compared with 10,071 for his nearest opponent.

Ruth Kirste defeated Daly City's Bob Duffy in the race for recorder by 43,954 votes to Duffy's 9,407. And in the assessor contest Ferko, with 12,473 votes, lost to the incumbent Hempstead by 32,953.

Frederick Peterson apparently is without any county job today. Not only was he defeated for supervisor of the fifth district, but Proposition "A," which would have perpetuated his office, was also rejected 42,668 to 12,152.

Bocci Position

Early in the election, it appeared that Rapsey might well win a right to keep his position on the First Township bench. (He was chosen for this job January 1 when Judge John J. Fahey resigned.) However, with the return of votes from Daly City and South San Francisco, Bocci soon gained a narrow lead which later extended to a victory.

Just one day before the primary, Bocci's partner, Judge Fahey reputedly Bocci. Fahey asserted he had never given Bocci his support, although the young lawyer had freely used his name for that purpose.

"Up to this moment," Fahey said in a signed statement Monday, "I have made no quotation for publication concerning the above-mentioned candidate."

Tuesday, the United AFL Political Committee, through its president John C. Healy, expressed surprise over Fahey's last minute statement.

Healy said Bocci was supported by the AFL committee on the strength of a letter written that group March 27 by Fahey in which he stated he was "actively supporting the candidacy" of Bocci.

What effect the disavowal of Bocci will have on the partnership could not be learned today. Bocci was not available for comment. Bocci has been working with Fahey for the past three years.

Three Small Fires Keep Jose Hoisters Hopping

Three minor fires kept Daly City blaze busters busy this week.

The first blaze was at the Big Bear Lumber Co. 11:30 Sunday morning. This proved to be only a small bit of trash burning, and no damage was reported.

At 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, Mrs. Sutter, 59 Miriam, was smoked out of her house by an overheated kitchen stove. Firemen report that new paint on the chimney, plus some accumulated grease caught on fire when Mrs. Sutter lighted the stove. Here again, no damage was reported.

A brush fire behind Cliffside drive, Westlake, caused some excitement but no damage at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning. Firemen had the small blaze under control within a few minutes after it was reported.

SF Woman Suffers Injuries In Wreck

A San Francisco woman suffered minor injuries in the only serious accident in Daly City over the weekend.

Mrs. Anita Edelman, 40, suffered a concussion and abrasions when her car she was riding in collided with another vehicle near Parkview avenue on Junipero Serra hospital at 6:25 p.m. Saturday.

The injured woman was riding in a car driven by Albert L. Edelman, 43, also of San Francisco. Driver of the other machine was William Reedy, 32, San Francisco.

NO SCHOOLS FOR WESTLAKE UNTIL LATE 1951

Schools, bus service, lawns and even dogs came up for discussion at the meeting of the Westlake Improvement Association Monday night.

Some 450 Westlake residents turned out for the meeting which was held in the auditorium of the Jefferson high school.

Speaking on the current shortage of schools in Daly City, James Snell, superintendent of schools, told the gathering that it would be "at least another year" before any new schools will be built in Westlake.

This came as a surprise to several residents who asserted that Henry Doelger had told them that it was only a matter of months before new schools would be erected.

"When I purchased my home last November, Doelger informed me I'd have a school in less than 30 days," an irate citizen said.

Snell noted that he had sent Doelger a letter outlining the school situation last November. Dr. George Gibson, president of the Association, replied that Doelger had given the facts concerning schools based on "the best of his information" at the time.

"I doubt if Doelger ever made that promise in writing," Dr. Gibson concluded. Although a representative of Henry Doelger was supposed to have been at the meeting, he did not come, Dr. Gibson noted.

Time and time again, Dr. Gibson said that the board of the Westlake Improvement Association was in no way connected with Doelger.

"I, nor any of the members of the board, can speak for Doelger," Dr. Gibson repeated.

Snell said that a "3 to 4 million dollar bond" election will be held in Daly City the latter part of September. This money, which must be paid back to the state over a period of years, will be employed in the construction of six new schools in the Daly City-Westlake area.

Three of the schools, all primary, are to be constructed in Westlake, Snell said.

"We have almost completed the plans for the buildings," Snell noted. "I believe contractors could start to work about four to eight weeks after the election."

Several residents suggested that the "24,000 community center" Doelger has planned for the tract might be used for a school until new buildings can be constructed.

Again Dr. Gibson said he could not speak for Doelger.

Untenable Position

Snell said he had done everything in his power to speed up the construction of new schools. He asserted, however, that only last month were any state funds available for construction of schools.

The superintendent also asserted that he had to plan for schools in

A BELL, AND A GOVERNOR STOP HERE EN ROUTE

Last Thursday Governor Earl Warren (standing directly under the bell) stopped over in Daly City for a brief campaign message. Also here at the same time was the bell which was hung at Mission San Antonio de Padua June 4. The bell was presented to the Mission by the California Mission Trails Association. Friends of the governor, from left to right, include Hugh Smith Jr., Joe Sarto, H. H. Smith, the governor, Judge Draper, A. J. Gaggero, Fete Markovich, and A. J. Bodien.

TIMOSSI MOTORS MOVES

A. L. Timossi To Open New Quarters June 10 At 6888 Mission Street

Climaxing a highly successful career here, the Timossi Motors, formerly known as the Mission Auto Co., at 6465 Mission street, will move to new and more expansive quarters on June 10, at 6888 Mission street, the center of automotive row.

In revealing the information, A. L. "Til" Timossi extended a warm invitation to everyone to come and visit his new location on Saturday afternoon, when "open house" will prevail.

Representing an investment of more than $100,000, the new site will be complete in every detail. A modern and well lighted showroom graces the side walk, which is in front of the main edifice, capable of accommodating 70 cars, and along side is a used car lot sufficient for 25 autos.

Carrying on as the Chrysler-Plymouth representative, Til will handle the sales and services of these two widely known products plus general repairs to all makes. To do this, he will maintain a force of eight well trained employees.

To insure the best results, Til has installed all new and modern equipment. He divulged that once his doors are open, he will be ready to handle just about anything required in the matter of automotive reconstruction.

Entering this field some 23 years ago, Til bought into the Mission Auto Company, which has maintained the same location for all that time. Last year he secured the entire ownership and immediately sought larger quarters.

Unable to find what he wanted, Til decided that the best thing to do was buy a plot of ground and erect a structure that would exactly fit all of the many requirements necessary for a modern automobile representation.

But the club to his present position represents a deal of hard work and persistence, it developed. There were the lean years during the depression when cars were difficult to sell, and only by tax-position to take some action.

Dr. Gibson then reported that police protection in Westlake was excellent. He said that within the next few weeks signs will be put up on all the streets warning motorists to be careful of children at play.

When asked what could be done about the 50 mile per hour speed limit on Highway No. 1, Dr. Gibson referred the matter to Mayor Paul Green who noted that he was now conferring with the state in an effort to cut the speed limit to 35 miles.

Intersection

A representative of the state highway department then said that plans were almost completed for putting in stop lights at both the intersection of Highway No. 1 and Skyline and Junipero Serra boulevard.

As reported earlier in the Record, these lights will be in some time this summer.

Following are some of the other questions and answers to problems in Westlake.

Fire Boxes—Dr. Gibson said the automatic fire boxes will be installed within the next 10 days.

Bus Service—As yet the Association has not been able to get the San Francisco Municipal Railroad to put in direct bus service to Westlake. However, as soon as the population is large enough this service will be initiated, Dr. Gibson said.

Planning Commission Sends Matter To Supervisors --- But Many Object

Residents Blast Action Of County Planning Officials

Objecting to the recent "special meeting" of the county planning commission, four Broadmoor families this week sent the Daly City Record the following letter:

What kind of a Planning Commission have we? At the last regular meeting of the San Mateo county planning commission a motion was made and passed to deny the Jefferson elementary school's petition to close White street. At that time, we asked the planning commission if any further action would be taken before the next regular meeting. We were assured that nothing would be done, unless we were properly notified of such a meeting.

Yet—on Friday, June 2, the planning commission had a special meeting, and without notifying anyone voted and passed a motion to connect Broadmoor to Westlake. This road that was passed on was called extremely dangerous, not feasible and out of the question by County Engineer Grant when he made his report to the Planning Commission. Mr. Klassen, the Daly City Engineer agreed with Mr. Grant.

What's going on? At one meeting everyone agrees that the road is out of the question—and then, they turn right around and pass it at a special meeting. Is this the way the Planning Commission passes all items that just don't add up!!!

City Council Meets Monday

Bids for removing buildings on the Community Memorial building property are to be opened at the regular meeting of the city council this Monday night.

Mayor Paul Green said work would begin immediately for tearing down the structures at Alp and Mission.

"We expect to call for bids on the $295,000 Community building early in July," Mayor Green said.

Work will probably begin on the structure sometime in August, with the completion date set for early in 1951.

At the Monday night meeting the council also will consider a petition of annexation of about two square blocks of property in the Garden Valley area. This includes land near First and Second and Valley streets off El Camino Real in unincorporated Colma.

D. C. Gets Larger Post Office Soon

Daly City may have a new post office before the end of summer.

This was the announcement of Postmaster John F. Fixa today, who said the post office department is now seeking new, larger quarters in Daly City.

He said the new office will occupy about 3,000 square feet, and be located in the present vicinity of the old Daly City post office. The department will lease either an old, or new building for 10 years.

However, this does not mean a federal building for the local mailmen... just another location. The new building is still in the planning stages, and it may be several years before it becomes a cement and brick reality.

Those interested in leasing new quarters to the post office are requested to submit bids on, or before, June 28, Fixa said. Interested parties should contact Post Office Inspector H. G. Mueller, room 316, Rincon Annex, Spear and Mission streets.

Holding a "special meeting" last Friday, the county planning commission approved a connecting street between Broadmoor and Westlake.

The plan approved is the "red" route. (This street will be about 300 feet east of White street and will run from 87th, through school property to the edge of the new Westlake business district, thence northwest to the intersection of highway 1 and Skyline boulevard.)

Some mystery today surrounds the Friday meeting. A. J. Bodien, board member, earlier said it was to be a caucus meeting. Later, it was found that the meeting was open to the public and the commission had the authority to pass measures of interest to the public.

Mrs. Eleanor Meitz, 530 87th, spokesman for the group fighting a connecting street through school property, said she had been told her group would be informed the next time the commission was to discuss the connecting street.

"No one told us a thing about the meeting," Mrs. Meitz said today. "I feel the planning commission has acted unfairly in this matter."

However, Mrs. Meitz noted that a "Mr. B." called Friday informing her that the meeting was to be held. "Mr. B." was in no way connected with the commission, Mrs. Meitz said. In the last minute, the group sent two representatives to the Friday meeting. However, although they objected, they were powerless to act.

Bodien did not state why the women were not notified, nor was any other member of the planning commission available for comment. Mrs. Meitz represents a group of (Continued on Page 2)

SCHOOL BOARD MEMBER DEPLORES METHODS OF THAT ORGANIZATION

The following is a letter by Mrs. Helen Cheatham, member of the Jefferson elementary school board, concerning a recent board "squabble" over teacher's raises for 1950-51.

At a closed meeting Tuesday night, two members of the board (not including Mrs. Cheatham) drew up what they believed to be a fair and equitable salary schedule for teachers. This schedule is to be presented at an open meeting of the school board Thursday, June 15.

Crux of the argument, as stated in Mrs. Cheatham's letter, is not so much the schedule itself, but merely that the board called a closed meeting, Mrs. Cheatham noted.

Following is Mrs. Cheatham's letter:

Recently there has been a great deal of discussion and confusion regarding the teachers' salaries in the Jefferson elementary school district. I wish to take this opportunity to explain my position in the matter.

Annually, about the first of April, a salary committee, composed of a select group of teachers and principals present a proposed salary schedule for the ensuing year to the school board. Theoretically, this proposed salary schedule has been approved by a majority of the teachers. It also occurs annually that there is a great deal of dissatisfaction among the teachers after the salary schedule is approved, due to inequalities in the way the salaries are spread among the teachers. This year the schedule was presented by the salary committee, and while inequalities were noted, officially the board made no comment.

It has always been my desire to raise the base teaching pay, at the same time raising the teachers' qualifications in order to improve the district's teaching standards. With this thought in mind, I worked out a salary scale starting at $3,000 annually for teachers with an AB degree, with proportionate increases for teachers with additional qualifications. The present starting salary for a teacher with an AB degree is $2,700 annually. I also added a new salary scale for a teacher with a Master's degree, to encourage teachers new with us to advance in their profession, and to encourage new and highly trained people to come into our school system.

I am embarrassed to say that at the present time there is only one teacher eligible for this new Master's degree salary range (and this teacher's salary is paid out of funds separate from Jefferson school district funds). It is our sincere hope that our teachers will advance to this new level.

In all sincerity I presented this seemingly workable schedule to the school superintendent to check its practicability in regard to the funds available to the district for salaries. It then developed, after checking, that it was unworkable because we lacked about $13,000 to cover the year's salaries as proposed in my schedule. It was concluded by the board that the superintendent's budget could not stand this additional expense.

The board met on May 16, Mr. Van Der Werff absent. Mr. Callan recommended and moved that the salary schedule for 1950 and 1951 be the same as the 1949-1950 schedule, with the addition of a classification for teachers holding a Master's Degree. I seconded the motion with the deepest regrets, and felt that the matter had been concluded—there was no discussion of raises due to the lamentable budget.

Much to my surprise no later than the next day Trustee Callan, for some unexplained reason, sought a revision of the salary schedule which had been approved on May 16, substantially scaling down the new salary range for teachers with a Master's degree, just because no raises had been provided for the other teachers. Neither Mr. Van Der Werff, president of the board, nor I, were consulted, or even advised of Trustee Callan's change of attitude.

It was then proposed that the teachers salary committee meet in private session with the board to discuss the salary schedule. This course of action was apparently favored by Mr. Callan and the school superintendent. I firmly declined to participate in any such secret sessions due to scruples against public servants legislating and spending public funds behind closed doors.

I consider teachers' salaries vital matters, and will discuss them in public only in the presence of the teachers and interested parents, should they wish to attend. I made this very plain at a meeting on June 1.

Also at the June 1 meeting, after some discussion and minor changes in the forthcoming year's operational costs, I moved for a "cost of living" increase of $100 per year across the board, and agreed to a paring of the Master's degree column by Mr. Callan; upon my notion this change was effected, and passed by a unanimous vote, all members of the board present and voting. At the conclusion of this meeting, the superintendent asked just what he should tell the teachers, and Trustee Callan recommended that he advise the teachers of the board's action of that date.

The unanimous action of the board on June 1, concluded the matter of salaries for the fall of 1950 and the spring of 1951—or so I thought. It involved approximately $3,000 to $6,000 dollars increase in the $398,750 salary budget, which I was confident could be managed, although Trustee Callan and the superintendent were very pessimistic.

Again, very much to my surprise, following our apparently satisfactory solution to the salary schedule, unanimously approved on June 1, Trustee Callan called a special closed meeting of the board with the teachers' salary committee on June 6. I am unable to tell you what happened at this meeting, did not attend, and I have not been advised.

Signed,
Mrs. Helen Cheatham

JOIN THE D. C. BOYS CLUB MONDAY ... ORGANIZATION TO OPEN SOON

Membership applications for the Daly City Boys Club will be accepted at the clubhouse beginning this Monday, Frank Bria, club director, announced today.

At a meeting of the Boys Club sponsoring group Wednesday evening, it was decided to open the newly painted and cleaned clubhouse sometime within the next four weeks. The date will be announced in a future edition of the Record.

Boys interested in joining the club are asked to come to the clubhouse, No. 1 Hillside boulevard, beginning Monday from 7 p.m. to 10:30 p.m.

Dues for the lads are to be 50 cents every six months. This is a token sum to make the boys aware of their share in the club's equipment.

Boys will be accepted for membership who are from 8 to 16 years old.

Thanks to the efforts of Bria, and several other men in the community, the old Boys Club headquarters has been prepared for an opening either the latter part of June, or the first of July.

As planned, the boys will be giv-

Bryan Hamric Celebrates 1½ Years In Used Car Business $5 DOWN AND DRIVE ANY CAR OFF THE LOT

With a steady rise in sales marking each month, the Hamric Motors, at 5199 Mission street, took time out this week to commemorate the end of one year and a half in the used car business and to accept the plaudits of being the fastest growing company of its kind in this vicinity.

Starting out in a small way, Bryan Hamric related that the aim of his organization at this time is to arrive at the status of where no less than 200 automobiles are delivered to new owners per month.

Asked about what he attributed the phenomenal growth to, Mr. Hamric asserted that it has been and is his policy to build up the reputation of handling clean merchandise and selling it cheaper than anyone else in town.

Then again, a second and vital consideration, he said, is to make the matter of a sale easy for the prospective purchaser. To do that, he has arranged a deal with his finance company whereby a five dollar note is enough for the down payment.

Bryan was quick to add that of course that proposition is subject to the buyer's credit status. He or she must comply with the requirements of the credit company.

But to get on with the program, he revealed that satisfied customers and advertising point the way to his goal. He said that most of the purchasers don't mind declaring they have made a satisfactory deal and that advertising was drawing a steady flow of prospects.

Inquiry concerning his background, made the displayed confidence easy to understand. After serving four years with the marines in the Pacific Bryan was discharged here, taking a liking to the city immediately, he said. Forthwith, he set out to make a connection. However, a survey revealed that cars were scarce, so he decided that the market of used autos was his baby.

But there was one catch. His capital amounted to a mere $200. Undaunted, he entered the field, and from that time on, he has been pyramiding on that sum.

Bryan is a family man, having two children and a wife to support, which he asserted is a daily incentive to get out and bring home the bacon and eggs.

of the organization. After expenses, largest of which was $1,800 for incorporation services, the Association has $4,419 balance. Becker noted that the expenses were all incurred before the present board took office.

Still unaccounted for is $1,719. This money is dues paid in by 91 new residents. (Dues are $19, paid when the home is purchased.) Dr. Gibson said the board would investigate the matter.

Population—As of the latter part of May the number of homes occupied in Westlake is 430.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served. Harry Bosbery, secretary of the Association, was in charge of the excellent refreshments.

As for school buses, Snell said the district can afford only one bus. Therefore, the bus can make only one stop in the Westlake area.

It was suggested that the stop point be moved from the main gate to someplace within the tract. Snell said he would take this under consideration.

Business District—Work is to begin on the Westlake shopping district within the next 45 days, Dr. Gibson said. The work should be completed by October or November. This district will be located south of Highway No. 1.

Street Signs—Dr. Gibson said this was a matter for the city of Daly City, and to date he had no information as to when street signs would be installed.

Finances—Charles Becker, assistant treasurer for the association, presented the financial report

"Red" Route Passed

900 Broadmoor residents who have signed a petition against any street through school property. They object to such a route as they feel it would be unsafe for school children.

On the other hand, the Jefferson elementary school board has been "forced" to approve the "red" route in order to obtain the White street property. The city of Daly City has gone on record in favor of the "red" route, as has the Westlake Improvement Association.

Now that the commission has approved the new street, objectors have two possible recourses.

1. The plan still must be approved by the county board of supervisors. According to the commission secretary, the matter should come before the supervisors at their regular June 20 meeting. At that time the objectors may voice a protest.

However, it is doubtful if this will do any good, as never in the history of the planning commission has the board of supervisors rejected one of their recommendations.

2. The Jefferson elementary school district must call a public hearing before they can dedicate the "red" route. If 10 per cent of the registered voters object to the street, the district must refer the matter to the county superintendent of schools, John Bruning, assistant district attorney, said.

(In effect, the 10 per cent protest may be made at the public hearing, for if the majority attending object, the matter must go before the county superintendent.)

The decision of the superintendent will be final in the matter, Bruning noted.

Hence, it appears that if the strong protest to the street continues, the last decision will rest with the superintendent.

James Snell, superintendent of the Jefferson elementary school district, said today that the public hearing on the "red" plan will be called at some future date. He noted that the date of the hearing has to be advertised in the Daly City Record.

Meanwhile, Bodien noted that as far as the planning commission is concerned the problem of the connecting street is settled. Their Friday recommendation is that:

"White street shall be abandoned, subject to receiving an easement from the Jefferson elementary school district for the 'red' plan."

When the street will be put in is still a matter of conjecture. First, of course, it must be approved by the Jefferson school district.

After the "red tape" has been cleared, it will be up to San Mateo county to approve funds for the street. The present budget does not allow any money for this street, M. A. Grant, county engineer, indicated.

Consequently, the new road probably would not be built, at least with county funds, until the 1951-52 fiscal year, when money has been allocated for the job.

How It Looks

From A Corner

and concerns the march and retreat of a Greek army into Persia.

We defy any modern day general, or novelist, to match thrills and buckets of blood with the philosophical Greek whose name is unpronounceable. In fact, should the yarn come out today it would hit the best seller list in no time flat.

Anyone interested in comparing notes (except a Greek who has read it in the original) can pick up the book for 35c in a handy British pocket edition, at local stores.

Those of you who cursed the system of marking ballots at the Tuesday primary might wonder why Daly City doesn't have regular voting machines.

Mayor Paul Green, who is now working on the city budget, explained that such machines run from $1,500 to $2,000 apiece. This money could do a lot of good in city parks, and until we have more people, or more elections, the city doesn't feel it can put out the shekles for the handy outfits.

Defying economics, that claims you have to have advertisements to put out a magazine, Ridgely Cummings last week came out with the second edition of his new literary venture, comprehension. Modern art haters will not enjoy this magazine; it probably will give them more fuel for the belief that the world is going to pot. However, for the others, it should be good reading.

Cummings, as all you readers know, also writes a column for this paper. Anyone interested in his short story ability can find one of his yarns in the new edition of his magazine.

By way of a personal note: Ridge... the 12 Adler ad might be all right with the line "where characters hang," but it's going to give too many people the idea they use rope instead of beer.

Full Fuel Tank

Automobile fuel tanks that are kept full are less apt to rust, according to the California State Automobile Association. Rust accumulations from the gasoline tank may eventually clog fuel lines and affect carburetor and engine efficiency.

BOCCI WINS

However, in a letter to the "Record," Bocci extended a word of appreciation for all those who had given him such fine support.

"It is indeed gratifying to know I have so many friends in the greater Daly City area," Bocci said in part. "I assure you that I will live up to the trust that all of you have put in me."

Hall vs. Torney
Another bit of "spice" to Tuesday's primary came last week when Hall filed a $10,000 libel suit against his opponent Torney. The libel suit is based on a statement issued by Torney which declared that Hall was incompetent for the position of superintendent of schools, Hall's suit alleged.

Also named in the suit was Hugh Tickler, member of the San Bruno Park school board, who allegedly reported a meeting of school teachers at which Hall attended and later resigned.

Hall gave no indication today whether or not he would press the suit.

Sheriff's Race

Before Tuesday all the "smart" money in the county was based on McGrath winning the primary. Since 1927 he has never had to resort to a general election to keep his job.

However, the politicians underestimated the strength of the south county. While McGrath carried the northern county he lost out further south where many new families have moved in over the past two years.

Most of Whitmore's strength seemed to be in his home town, Redwood City and in Burlingame. The official count of the ballots still is to be made, and will include 1,072 absentee ballots which have not been counted.

Anniversary for Mosman

Mrs. Evelyn Mosman, who lends charm to the city clerk's office, has a double celebration this Sunday.

Not only will she be marking her 25th year of married bliss, but also her birthday; she is not telling how many candles will adorn the cake. Next week the Record hopes to have a full story on the anniversary party, but for now we wish her well and many more such parties.

County Officers Criticize Grand Jury Report

Superior Judge Aylett R. Cotton this week took to task the grand jury for two of their recommendations in their final report.

The Judge said he was opposed to limitation of elective law enforcement officials to two terms, (8 year in office) and elimination of horse racing.

Sheriff James McGrath, who came under fire by the grand jury, termed the report "purely political." The jury has charged that bets can be placed in the county. However, the jury noted that the gambling situation here was no better nor worse than in other counties of comparable size.

Other recommendations of the grand jury were:

1. The planning commission staff be placed under the supervision of the county engineer, M. A. Grant, county engineer, merely stated "What would I do with it?"

The jury also took Grant to task for not providing better roads in the county; to which he replied, "people are naturally disappointed when they are told there are no funds for that purpose."

2. The supervisors should set up a "task force" to investigate all demands by pressure groups who seek county tax money to establish "social needs" in the county.

Supervisor Henry Edmonds said this recommendation, as well as others in the 125 report, would have to be studied by the supervisors.

Birthday for Bill

Bill Boggio, 193 Irvington, is a gentleman known for a fine restaurant and a lovely wife. This Sunday his staff side is giving him a birthday party at his home. Dolly, better known as the judge's secretary, is in charge of the party which is to consist for the most part of a fudge cake and sandwiches. Several months ago Bill opened his new restaurant, and this will be one of the few Sunday's he'll have time to relax. Any friends might drop around the house Sunday, and wish him well. Happy birthday, Bill.

The OLPH class graduates a week ahead of the Jefferson elementary schools and Jefferson high school.

The Rev. Adrian McKenna will deliver the commencement address.

At 9 a.m. Friday mass will be recited at OLPH church for the graduating class. This is to be followed by a breakfast at 10:30 a.m.

Diplomas are to be given the 50 students at special ceremonies at the church Friday evening, beginning at 8 p.m. Also, the special awards are to be given out at that time.

Names of the students, as well as a picture of the graduating class is to be published in next week's Daly City Record.

Mrs. Hobbs Serves County TB Board

More than 162 San Mateo county civic leaders, many of them representing the various schools and school systems, Monday night participated in a completely new and informal type of annual dinner held by the San Mateo county Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Principal guest speaker at the unusual affair was Dr. Harry A. Wilmer, M.D., author of the best-selling "Huber the Tuber," a popularized story of tuberculosis. Dr. Wilmer recounted the story of the writing of his book and the various educational leaders had been especially invited to the meeting in order that they will be able to get full use from the copies of the book which are to be supplied to the schools of county later this year.

Presiding at the dinner was Attorney Bradford M. Melvin, president of the Association, who was re-elected to the presidency as the annual meeting chose the association leaders for the new year. Others re-elected included: Vice-President Dr. St. J. Lester Russell; Secretary Mrs. Leonard MacWilliams; and Treasurer T. N. Thompson of Redwood City.

New names added to the executive board of the Association were those of Dr. Gerald Fairbairn of Belmont, J. B. Mike O'Connor of San Mateo and Dr. Albert Miller. Among the new directors are: Mrs. William Hobbs, Daly City; Mrs. G. S. Buck, South San Francisco; Mrs. Louis H. Terry, Brisbane; Dr. Earl C. Kading, Sharps Park; Dr. Horace A. Wald, South San Francisco.

Students Prepare For Graduation

With graduation only a week away 140 members of the class of 1930 (Jefferson Elementary School District) are busily engaged in making their program one of the best ever presented at an property two miles west of La Honda and northeast of Memorial park.

They gave similar approval for a well to the Continental Oil company of Los Angeles. The site of this well is one mile north of La Honda.

This makes a total of five wells now to be drilled in the county.

elementary school commencement. Theme for this year's program will be "Focus on Education" and the presentation will include the development of the theme with "Education Moulds Our Future" which gives the four main objectives of education as developed by individual students.

There will be "An Educational Allegory" representing the various fields and phases in our schools today with students portraying such topics as education, opportunity, student government, health, and special subjects. There will interspersed a number of instrumental and vocal solos as well as choral selections.

Musical numbers will also be presented by the elementary school orchestra.

Letter to the Editor

Correction: It Was VFW Not American Legion

Dear Sir:

It has come to the attention of the members of this post that in a recent publication of the "Daly City Record" there appeared therein a statement which had reference to the participation of the "Joseph P. McQuaide Post" of the American Legion from San Francisco, in the Daly City May Day Parade held on May 7, 1930.

It appears that your sources of information have erred in this respect as the Joseph P. McQuaide Post which took part in the aforementioned parade, and which we think performed so splendidly, is the band comprised of members of the Joseph P. McQuaide Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U.S., San Francisco.

In view of the foregoing it is respectfully requested that steps be taken to correct this most embarrassing mistake.

May we take this opportunity in expressing our thanks for your most cooperative attitude toward Old Glory Post.

For the Commander:
R. G. Schneider
Adjutant

(Ed Note: The preceding letter, we believe, will act as a correction in itself. Our only source of information of participants in the parade came from the May Day judges.)

Our Thanks To Ladies Of OLPH Mother's Club

Editor:

In behalf of the Mothers' Club of Our Lady of Perpetual Help school, I wish to express my appreciation for the wonderful cooperation shown me in publishing the reports of our activities.

The many courtesies shown me by the staff and particularly Mr. Katz in assisting with the various accounts will be long remembered and repeated with praise.

I feel too that the publicity given our club during the past year has added in no small way to help make this another very successful year.

Again many thanks for all assistance, I am

Sincerely,
R. Valetta Ennis

Readers Object To Connecting Street

Dear Sir:

The planning commission's only answer to the question of why we must have a road through our school area is—"It's good planning!" With so many strong points opposing such a road—is it really good planning?—or just foul politics? Here are some facts.

1. The National Safety Council states: "Every school should be constructed as far away as possible from any source of danger."

2. The current trend in modern education is to combine recreational and educational facilities. This road takes approximately one acre of land from the only available land in the entire Broadmoor-Garden Village area for that purpose.

3. The planned road (red route) was termed as dangerous, unfeasible, and out of the question by both Engineer Grant of the Planning Commission, and Engineer Klassen of Daly City. Yet the Planning Commission disregarded their advice and voted on this road.

4. This road entails the removal of two homes barely two years old. These owners bought their homes in good faith believing the arrangement to be permanent.

5. This road dead-ends into 87th street thereby bringing increased traffic into a residential area, endangering children and adults as well, and adding to the bottle-neck at 87th street and Junipero Serra Blvd.

6. Broadmoor has only one policeman on duty at a time—so the school area would naturally be unprotected most of the time.

7. Several connecting streets are being put through west of the proposed upper grade school, thereby eliminating the necessity of the road in question.

8. The people in the immediate vicinity who would be most affected, strongly object to any road through the school area. These people are taxpayers—and their money is being spent to put through a road they do not desire. 900 people have signed a petition to this effect.

Is the pressure so great from Daly City that all of these facts can be overlooked by the Planning Commission?

Committee opposed to road through school areas.

Colma Bookies Fined $250

Two Colma bookies were fined $250 each in Superior court Monday.

Judge Cotton ordered the two men to pay the fines as a condition of probation.

They are: Julio Ciardelli, nabbed March 28 for operating a bookie layout at the San Pedro Smoke shop at No. 7 San Pedro road; John Pesce, arrested after a raid April 5 on the premises at 52 Clark street.

Both pleaded guilty to felony violation of the state anti-gambling laws pertaining to book-making.

Sheriff's officers found book-making at the San Pedro road smokeshop when they called there on a routine inspection in connection with Ciardelli's application for renewal of his county card-room license.

Pesce's layout was uncovered in a butcher's abandoned ice box.

With her wedding scheduled for August 6, Gloria Pera was the honored guest at a bridal shower given by her aunt, Mrs. Louis Stanghellini, 58 Vale street, last Saturday.

The Stanghellini home was decorated in the traditional colors of a wedding, with white glads and snap dragons throughout the house. On the main table was a miniature wedding scene, including the bride and groom.

A large cake, on which congratulations were tendered the bride and groom, held the honored position on the table.

The bride-to-be is a resident of Cotati, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pera. The groom, Leslie Keffer, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Keffer Sr., of Rincon Valley.

YOUR DALY CITY GARDEN CLUB NEWS

By ELSIE M. GARRISON

You will remember last week, I began the report on the highly successful tour, undertaken by the members of the D. C. Garden club, of many interesting and colorful homes and gardens in this area.

Not to be forgotten was the welcome received from Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hopkins, 98 Gambetta street, Mrs. Hopkins, formerly associated with a Garden club, disclosed her favorite hobby to be trees. This interest was mirrored by the beautiful elms and birches surrounding her residence. A note of interest was the outdoor glass partition along the fence, which, beside adding architectural interest, gave entire garden protection from the wind. Mock orange trees, rose-bushes, and countless other species, made their garden charming indeed.

Sharing Mrs. Hopkins love of trees, it might be timely to mention that the summer months are critical ones for our trees in the forest recreation lands. Every summer fires are started by careless campers, and smokers, and the majestic splendor of these fine old trees, are reduced to grim, blackened specks—memorial to man's thoughtlessness. If you have a little boy or girl Scout in your home, they will instruct you on the proper procedure for lighting a fire, and putting one out—but the cigarette menace is not in such careful hands—so do take extra effort this year.

June Meeting
We were happy to visit next, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pereira, 335 Hillside blvd., Mr. Pereira, is well known in gardening circles, for he has walked off with many ribbons and trophies for his exhibits of fuchsias in flower shows. A visit to his greenhouse, revealed some rare and unusual specimens, and presages future honors for this earnest young man. Mr. Pereira had very kindly arranged to take us through the Bungalow Nursery, Colma, in the absence of owners, Walter and Kay Nessler, and our subsequent circuit of the nursery, proved to be quite enlightening, with Mr. Pereira's running commentary covering all phases of the culture and habits of each variety seen.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Yahn, 292 Hillside blvd., was the final stop for this convivial group—and here we hit the jackpot for versatility. In their "handkerchief garden" was enclosed a small pool, with small trees and flowers growing about its edge. In one corner was a nice collection of cactus plants. Then too, we saw evidence of Mrs. Yahn's other hobby, which is ceramics, and can tell you that her popularity in this field is well earned. Fitting in as it does so nicely, with flowers we hope to hear a good deal from her in the future.

Still speaking of things versatile—the speaking of a piano in the Yahn home attracted quite a few, and it was soon discovered that the harmony within this group was not limited to gardening. Mr. Hunter, at one time a featured singer and composer, demonstrated his ability by the rendition of several songs, and was accompanied very nicely by Mrs. Yahn. Mrs. Streeter, also revealed musical talent, and if it had not grown so late, we might have decided to add a theatrical wing to our organization—they were good!

Thanks
Mrs. Bunkley, president, wishes to thank all the owners of the gardens visited for their co-operative spirit in welcoming the Daly City Garden club members and their guests, and sharing with them they beauty they have created in this community. An extra vote of thanks to Mrs. Yahn, who was such a gracious hostess, and the bouquet of the conch to her mother, Mrs. Smith, whose seniority was no deterrent to her ability to cover every inch in sprightly style.

It must be admitted that many of us were a little fatigued after such a pilgrimage, but not Mrs. Smith! Mr. Pereira also earned an extra "Thank You" for his efforts on our behalf.

The June meeting of the Daly City Garden Club was held at the home of the Dick Hunters. The recently acquired trophy was on display, and its beauty evoked much comment and admiration. Donated by Lombardi Auto Service, it was awarded to the club for the best float in the May Day festival and parade. Initiation was observed at this meeting, and many new members were on hand. Mr. Iverson was appointed "slip" chairman, and he outlined a specific program, by which all members would benefit greatly. Several fuchsia plants were given to interested parties, by Mr. Shirli Mollette.

If you can get downtown this week, do not miss the free exhibit, being put on by Podesta and Baldochi, at their Grand Avenue store. This firm of pioneers in floristry, has imported many rare tropical plants and birds to follow the theme of "South Pacific." Native huts, and tea palms from an authentic background for this lavish display. I understand it will inaugurate the beginning of an import business, which will avail San Franciscans and Daly Citizens of the utmost in rare anthurium, halyconia, Bird of Paradise, ginger and orchid varieties. It is no longer necessary to visit those "far away places"—They are coming to you!

San Jose State To Present "Time And The Conways"

San Jose State college Little Theatre production of "Time and the Conways," by J. B. Priestley, opens Thursday evening, June 8 at 8:15. This unusual play will run through June 13 except for Sunday, June 11th.

In the important role of Mrs. Conway will be Patricia Ironside, a fine young professional actress who now resides in Saratoga. Director John R. Kerr has expressed his pleasure in having the charming guest actress in his cast. "The cast and the director are most fortunate in having Miss Ironside to play one of the key characters," Kerr said.

In the play the Conways are having a party to celebrate Kay's twenty-first birthday. Shirley Wilber will play Kay. All the members of the family are looking forward to successful careers and happy marriages.

In the second act the family is suddenly projected twenty years into the future. Kay, who wanted to be a novelist is a journalist and hates it. Robin, to be played by James Jensen, is a shiftless no account. Marge, who will be played by Gwen Samuelson, dreamt of reforming the world but is now a bitter school teacher.

Hazel, to be played by Gwen Dam, wanted a rich expensive life but has it at the expense of a cruel husband. The scatter-brained mother of the brood who had high hopes for them all is growing old gracefully.

Only Alan, who presents Priestley's concept of time, is content to be a shabby clerk.

A tall, beautifully paneled room is the setting designed by J. Wendell Johnson. The problem of costuming for two distinct periods is under the supervision of Bernice Prisk and Chez Hacht. Alden Smith is supervising the before and after problems that arise in make-up.

BAYSHORE VISITACION VALLEY

By Bernice Hendryx Juniper 4-6449

The Fire Commissioners have retained Wayne Millington as attorney to defend them in the taxpayers suit brought against them by Harry Hermann.

The suit charges the commissioners with having obligated the district for purchase of more than $19,000 worth of new fire equipment without having obtained approval of the voters. The clerk of the board has written to the district attorney, asking for photostatic copies of the fire board meetings minutes for future record.

This is the first action in this suit since the filing, and it is doubtful whether this will come to court for many months to come. We could normally expect a full, but a rumor is waiting itself abroad that there is a possibility that another suit will be filed in due time that will tie in with our present controversy.

The prospect of more legal suits among friends and neighbors is not a pleasant outlook, but all things considered, it may clear the air for Bayshore for awhile if these suppositions are run to earth and either proved or disproved once and for all. A good housecleaning at decent intervals is not to be blinked at, but in my estimation, Bayshore indulges in a continuous spring cleaning the year round. The good neighbor policy here might be studied by our diplomats. We could show them many reasons why it won't work when dealing with the human element.

Improvement Club

The Improvement club is giving their anniversary dance this Saturday, June 10, and it's a come one, come all deal. Their last dance on April 1 was a marked success, so it has led to a repeat. Come on down off the hill neighbors, and meet your neighbors. The dance will be held at the Sanitation Board Hall on Geneva at Schwiner St.

Our kindergarten classes graduated this week, complete with diplomas, college caps and the works. Seeing these little ones put through graduation paces is one of the sweeter memories in many a parent's life. Makes you realize how fast the years go and how soon they grow up.

Troop 43

Troop 43 of the Girl Scouts held their last official meeting until September. They are full of plans for summer camp at Wasibo. Five of our girls are going from 43. They rounded out their year nicely by spending a busy day stuffing envelopes for Community Chest. That's worth a mention, because they were the first to volunteer to help with this work.

10 Commandments Series Begins

Beginning next Sunday, the first Sunday after Trinity, Lutheran Church of Broadmoor will conduct a sermon series on the Ten Commandments.

Next Sunday's theme will be "Having No Other Gods Before The True God." One Sunday will be devoted to each commandment for the next ten weeks. Questions which will be discussed in these sessions include: "Can I keep the Law of God perfectly?" "Does God demand that I do?" "What are the real purposes of the Law?" "How does a Christian Use the Ten Commandments?"

Come, and bring a friend with you, the Pastor invites. Services are being held at present at Broadmoor Community Recreation Center, White street, just off 87th st. Church is at 11 a.m.; Sunday School at 9:45 a.m.

BROADMOOR ASSN. MEET THURSDAY

Connecting Street Problem To Highlight Evening Conclave

A further discussion of the proposed connecting street between Broadmoor and Westlake will highlight the meeting of the Broadmoor Property Owners Association Thursday night, June 8.

The meeting is to be held in the Broadmoor Community center, beginning at 8 p.m.

It is expected that the Association will send a resolution to the planning commission asking for a road.

Earlier, the Association went on record as opposed to any street through school property, but asserted that if such a route was necessary the "red" plan was the best. (This plan calls for a street 300 feet east of White to run from 87th to the intersection of highway

WATER RATE BOOST SEEN SOON FOR ALL BROADMOOR RESIDENTS

Water rates for Broadmoor and San Mateo county probably will go up in October.

H. G. Butler, San Francisco, water rate expert, made this announcement today. Increased costs of piping San Francisco water to the Peninsula is the reason for the proposed rate increase.

Butler could not say yet how much the increase might be.

Howard Richardson, representing the Broadmoor Property Owners Association, is now investigating Butler's announcement. All indications are that the Association will fight the proposed increase.

Broadmoor, as many areas in San Mateo county, buys its water from San Francisco through the "middle man" service of the California Water Service company.

Daly City would not be effected by the rate increase, as all water in this community comes from wells in the area.

Tom Jenkins, Broadmoor Association president, said he was withholding comment until such time as Richardson completes his report.

Jefferson Takes Lions Club Jr. Olympic Meet

By ERLE JOHNSON (Supervisor of Recreation)

Thanks to the efforts of the boys and girls in the "B" class, the Jefferson track team rolled over its opponents last Sunday with 152 1/2 points.

The nearest team to them was OLPH with 104 points and the morning and afternoon sessions of Crocker fought it out for third and fourth places with 67 1/2 and 67 points respectively. Mr. Terger's team just got by Mr. Fischer's by 1/2 a point. The so called "Peewees" of Jefferson had their own way all afternoon, but the "A" teams, boys and girls, had to be satisfied with second places.

OLPH won first place honors in the Boys "A" class and the Crocker PM "A" girls edged out Jefferson's girls 30-28 1/2 to win top honors. OLPH will have to wait another year to see if they can get back the big Lions club track trophy which Jefferson won from them this year.

Although it was a rather cold and foggy day, there were almost twice as many participants and parents at the big event as attended last year. It is hoped that this is an indication of bigger and better track meets in the future. Some 400 people were estimated in attendance.

Erle Johnson, supervisor of recreation, wants to thank all of the Lions who gave him their time and efforts to make the event a success. It was through the joint efforts of the Daly City recreation department and the Daly City-Colma Lions club that the meet was made possible. The winners of each event were presented medals after the meet and the second, third, and fourth place winners received ribbons.

A vote of thanks should go to the following men for their efforts in Sunday's affair: Mike Orlich and Ernie Ribera, Jefferson high school track coaches; Snell, Hannah, G. O'Shaughnessy, R. Jackson, H. Willis, G. Williams, T. Larami, E. Fontana, Lions who officiated the meet; Don Pagani, Jefferson; Glen Smith, OLPH; Bill Terger, Crocker AM; Jacob Fischer, Crocker PM; these last four men are the coaches of the school's listed after their names and they did a wonderful job with their various groups.

COLMA --- BROADMOOR GARDEN VILLAGE

Broadmoor Woman Victim Of "Flying Abortion Ring"

A "flying service" abortion ring which operated on a Broadmoor woman, and 99 other victims was smashed by the San Mateo county sheriff's office last week.

Arrested were Dr. Kenneth L. Elges, 38, who had his regular office in Reno and another office in Lomita Park; Jules H. Golding, 41, a vitamin pill salesman living in San Carlos.

Dr. Elges allegedly accepted $650 in marked bills from a woman deputy sheriff. A Stanford Coed also asserted that the doctor performed an illegal operation on her last week.

Deputy Sheriff Jack O'Brien said a Broadmoor woman, "who had been butchered" was admitted to a South San Francisco hospital recently. While she refused to talk, her husband told deputies that she had gone to Reno on a plane with seven or eight other women, and had paid $300 for the illegal operation.

Let Him Pass

When another driver is trying to pass you, ease up on the accelerator pedal, urges the California State Automobile Association. The effect will be the same as if the other driver has increased his speed, and the result will be increased safety. Above all avoid speeding up when someone is trying to pass.

Olympics Planned For Pack No. 84

Cub Pack No. 84 is to have a regular Olympics in the latter part of June.

This was the announcement from the Pack committee following a meeting of that group last Thursday night. Also discussed at the meeting were plans for Cub activity throughout the summer.

Further details on the Olympics will be published from time to time in the Daly City Record.

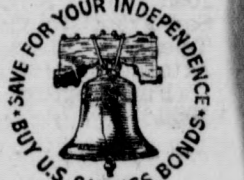

The committee also gave a vote of sympathy to Mrs. Dan Anderson, newest den mother, who is recovering from an illness. During her absence her daughter will take over Den No. 5.

Last week, the Record did an injustice to Bill Teeter, by playing havoc with his name. We hereby correct the error, and note that Bill was given the Webelos award at the last regular meeting of the Pack. He is now on his way to becoming a first rate Boy Scout.

TROLLING IMPROVES
Trolling for trout improved last week on Grant, Gull, and Silver Lakes in Mono county, according to the National Automobile club. Several good catches of one to two pound fish were taken.

My sincere thanks to all those who worked for and voted for me as a candidate for Justice of the Peace.

The game was scoreless until the fifth inning when South City drove in two runs. In the last half of the same inning Jim Haupt got a triple, Glen Legge a single, and Max Moore another triple. This evened the score.

ALL-PAL TEAM CHOSEN

Cereghino, Lunghi, Findlay Named To First Team; Mosman Makes Second

By MILTON TROMBORG

(Ed. Note: The first PAL team, named several weeks ago, was chosen by the San Mateo Times. The following team is the choice of the majority of sportswriters and coaches on the Peninsula Athletic League, and is the official PAL nine.)

The Jefferson High Indians, after capturing the PAL baseball crown two weeks, placed three players on the first team of the all PAL selection and one player on the second team.

Picked on the first team were pitcher Ed Cereghino, center fielder Don Lunghi, and catcher Alex Findlay. Harold Mosman, third sacker for the Indians was picked on the second all PAL nine.

Ed Cereghino
Unanimous choice for the 1950 player of the year was Jefferson's ace chucker Ed Cereghino. The big 200 pound blond right hander, was one of the main reasons the Indians took the PAL crown after 13 long years.

Cereghino pitched in every PAL contest, ending the season with a 5-2 record. His total record for the year was 10 wins against 3 defeats.

Coach Glenn South, said that Cereghino was the back bone of the team all year.

Alex Findlay
Jefferson's ace catcher, Alex Findlay, was another unanimous choice for an all PAL berth.

Findlay was picked as the best back stop in the league and was one of the better hitters around the league, ending the season with a .389 average. Findlay is a senior and will not be back next year when the Indians take the field. Findlay was also voted by his fellow team mates as captain of the year for the PAL champs.

Don Lunghi
It was quite a struggle to picking the best center fielder, but after the facts and figures were put down on paper, Jeff's Don Lunghi came out on top. Don had a rough time of it in the league games hitting at a .125 clip, but in the play offs Lunghi came back to end the season with a .333 average.

Lunghi's fame does not end in baseball, as he was picked on the All PAL football eleven last year. This year in baseball, Lunghi was the Indians top player in getting on base, but mostly by the walk route. This ends Lunghi's high school career and a great one it was, for he was picked as the outstanding player of the year at Jefferson.

Harold Mosman
Though not able to get on the first team, Harold Mosman, Jefferson's ace third baseman, was top choice for the second team. Mosman was the best defensive infielder for the Indians nine all year. Mosman's big bat gave him the honor of being the top Jefferson hitter and enable him to have his name engraved on a cold cup that will be placed in the trophy room.

So there you have the official 1950 all PAL baseball team with Jefferson high, the 1950 champs, dominating the first team with three players, plus having the player of the year.

Following is the 1950 all PAL baseball team:

Player	Pos.	School	Yr.	B.A.
Ed Cereghino	P	Jeff.	Jr.	.167
Randy Curtiss	P	P. A.	Jr.	.173

CUB PACK NO. 36 WINS NATIONAL LEAGUE PLAY-OFF CHAMPIONSHIP

By MRS E. K. WHINNEN

Pack 36, of the National League, ended the baseball season in a blaze of glory Sunday, defeating Pack 115 of the American League 8 to 2.

Winning the game brings to Pack 36, the National League Perpetual Trophy, and the West of Twin Peaks Cub Pack Championship Trophy. They also received a National League Trophy for being undefeated in their league, and a second trophy for their Western League, or junior team.

To play in the play-off game, Pack 36, had to play the seven other cub packs, who make up the National League, and come through undefeated. The same is true of Pack 115, of the American League, who were opponents of Pack 36, in the final play-off.

These are the boys who made up the National League team for the final play-off against the American League. Hats off to them, Jack Havens, (Jack was the most outstanding player in the National League) George Yerby, Jerry Rosenberg, Russell Duckering, Mike Vincent, Larry Caratt, Ronnie Gardner, Ted Heims, Mike Linderman, Blair Forbes, Angelo Casini, Leonard Burke, and Steve Parsons.

As is customary, each year, after the play-off championship game is played, an all-star game is played, consisting of 18 boys chosen by their team mates, as their most outstanding players in their individual packs. Each boy is only allowed to play 3½ innings of baseball. Pack 36 being winner of the league, was allowed four players. The pack at the bottom is allowed one. The National All-Stars defeated the American All-Stars 8 to 4. The four boys from Pack 36 who played on the All-Star Team are: Jack Havens, don't you?

Ice Follies Now At SF Winterland

"The Jockeys," portrayed by Paul and Yvon Leduc, present one of the most interesting production sequences in the current "Ice Follies of 1950," now playing nightly at San Francisco's Winterland.

Evening performances are scheduled at 8:30 o'clock, while Sunday matinees are scheduled to start June 25 at 2:15 o'clock.

The Leduc brothers, French-Canadians from Montreal, have a background of more than a decade of judo and acrobatics, and they employ many features of this training in their act.

While Paul was on tour with the "Ice Follies," Yvon was still in school in Montreal, and developing his talents in hand-to-hand balancing.

During the war Paul taught judo to Canadian commandos, but last year he and his brother returned to "Ice Follies," and im-

86 Jeff Athletes Receive Letters At Father And Son Banquet Here

(Ed. Note: The following article is reprinted from a recent edition of the prize winning Jefferson high school weekly paper, "Totem Pole")

Sitting down and eating one of the most enjoyable dinners that they had ever eaten, 160 men and boys had a good time at the Father and Son Banquet held last Monday night, May 15, in the school cafeteria.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation of blocks to the athletes of the school.

The highest award was given to Don Lunghi, named the most outstanding senior athlete. Don played 2 years of football and made a name for himself there and then went on and made a name for himself in baseball.

Other top awards were given to the following boys: Ed Cereghino, ace pitcher for the Jeff nine was given the trophy for the most important player for this year's team. His ability to play the game as well as his attitude made him first choice.

His ability to play, as well as his sportsmanship, determined the coaches' choice of John Matzek as the most outstanding varsity basketball player.

There was no doubt that Joe Zanolini should get the award for the most outstanding trackman. His ability to come through when the chips were down enabled him to become a champion.

Les Nicolini was named top swimmer and was given the trophy for this sport.

Last but not least, we should not forget men behind the scenes, the managers. Though they are forgotten by some of us, they help bring out teams to victory. Frank Hartje and Robert Richard received letters in basketball as John Sococa received a letter in 30's basketball. Seabiscuit's Owner Dies Seabiscuit's owner, Charles S. Howard, 69, died of a heart attack Tuesday at his residence at 200 Jackling drive, Hillsborough.

Howard owned the great thoroughbred of pre-war days, as well as the current fine Irish-bred Noor, which defeated Citation on its last two outings.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. today (June 8) at St. Matthew's Episcopal church, San Mateo. Private entombment will be in Cypress Lawn cemetery.

Howard owned vast racing interests throughout the west, with his main interest the Ridgewood farm near Willits, California.

Livermore Rodeo This Week End, June 10 And 11

Livermore—where western spirit rises and falls each year in the space of a month—will be the scene this week-end, June 10 and 11, of what promises to be the biggest rodeo and western celebration in its history.

With many grizzled old westerners already on hand, and others coming in each day, the town has already taken on a true atmosphere of the old west—an atmosphere which will burst into reality when the horses start bucking and the cowboys start flying the arena next Saturday and Sunday.

This will be a rodeo at its best—the renewal of a rodeo which started back in 1918 as a Red Cross benefit and has now grown into one of the most important and widely acclaimed western shows in America.

It will match several hundred of the nations top cowboys against the savage wildness of the animals they attempt to ride or rope, while at the same time they will be vying one against the other for a share of the huge jackpot of cash prizes which will be divided among the victors.

Many will come to match their skill with the wild horses, the brahma bulls, the wildly scurrying calves and the elusive steers, but only a few will go away with their share of lumps and bruises, or perhaps even a broken arm or leg—or neck.

Approximately 50,000 persons are expected to jam the streets of downtown Livermore for the centennial parade, which Saturday morning at 10 o'clock will officially open the week-end of western celebrating.

The grand entry preceding the Saturday show will march by a filled grandstands at 1:30, and a half hour later the 25 chutes will start spilling man and beast into the arena at the one-a-minute clip which has given this show the undisputed title of "The World's Fastest Rodeo."

Sarto's Show No Pepper With Salt

Sarto's lost their first game of the San Francisco Park league last Sunday by the score of 4 to 1 in favor of Leslie Salt.

Henry Morgan wasn't allowed to pitch during the game, but Quinones did a nice job on the mound.

Alex Findlay, Jeff's all star catcher, showed he could also do pretty well at bat. He accounted for two hits, and drove in the only run of the day.

Games to be played by Sarto's next week were not available at publishing time.

Cereghino Chucks Four-Hit Game

After pitching the Jefferson High Indians to the PAL baseball championship, Ed Cereghino turned to the semi pro league last week, and pitched his team, Mike Chioino, to a 2-1 victory over the 339 Club at Healdsburg.

The big blond right hander found his curve breaking at the right time and in doing so struck out a total of 18 batters in a 9 inning game, while giving up 4 hits, and walking 2.

Cereghino had a two hit shut out going into the last half of the 9th inning, but then a single and a double scored the lone tally.

Salton Sea Soon May Be Full Of More Than Salt

The division of fish and game is still doggedly at work writing one of the biggest fish stories in California history.

It has to do with making good fishing waters out of the state's largest lake—the barren Salton Sea.

Division personnel this month came just a little closer to putting a happy ending to the tale, which has been more than 30 years in the making.

A crew from the bureau of fish conservation and marine fisheries put a truck load of 5,000 Mexican anchovettas in the salt water and topped it off with a planting of 200 assorted ocean game fish.

A similar plant of Mexican anchovies was made last year with division assets, is the planting of anchovetta, which are expected to some day provide food for the larger game fish.

Additional stocking will probably be made with ocean fish from California coastal waters.

Armed with a special permit from the Mexican government, the State employees netted their fish in the Gulf of Lower California, near San Felipe, where the water temperature is nearly the same as in the Salton Sea.

The Fish were placed in a 1500-gallon fish planting tank truck and speeded across the border. Periodic icing of the taking was necessary to keep the fish in good condition during the eight-hour trip.

Salton Sea fishermen shouldn't be surprised if in the future they haul in corbina, yellowfin croaker, bonefish, mullet, ten-pounders, or some other unannounced ocean game fish species which are now known to be in the desert-ringed lake.

But the division of fish and game doesn't want anglers to make a dash for the Imperial Valley on their next day off. The Sea is still providing spotty catches of only mullet and ten-pounders.

All the more or less "native" fish (as of 1949) are primarily vegetarians. Before anglers can go after the more aristocratic ocean game fish a forage fish food supply must become established.

any time of the year.

Sports Events Scheduled For This Summer

William P. Kyne today revealed plans for a gigantic program that will just about make San Mateo county the nation's capital of championship sports events, at least for the next few months.

With the $5000 National Championship Motorcycle races scheduled at Bay Meadows for June 25, Kyne is negotiating for another heavyweight title match and to bring the "finish" of the unfinished 500-mile auto race at Indianapolis to Bay Meadows.

Kyne is contemplating offering an attractive purse to entice the star drivers in the Indianapolis classic here for a race of 150 miles, the distance that was remaining when the Decoration Day event was halted by rain.

Ezzard Charles has agreed to another title bout under Kyne's promotion here in October providing a suitable opponent can be obtained.

The Bay Meadows general manager, who is rapidly becoming the most versatile sports promoter in the country, hopes to make the motorcycle and auto races annual classics that will become as important to the west as the Indianapolis race has become in the east.

At any rate, if Kyne's plans materialize San Mateo county will have more sports championships within the next few months and probably annually also than any other county in America.

Meanwhile, entries from the nation's best riders are pouring in for the U. S. championship motorcycle races, which are being brought to California for the first time.

This month's plant of 200 ocean game fish was only in the nature of an experiment. The most important thing accomplished, the help of the division's twin-motored airplane on the long haul between waters.

The isolated Salton Sea—born of a flood in 1906—has long resisted attempts to establish good fishing. Over the years, anchovies and striped bass have been introduced without success.

While commercial fishermen have fair luck netting mullet, sportsmen are frequently frustrated in their efforts to hook up with anything edible. Yet in no other place in California has the State made it so easy to catch a fish. Sports fishermen may take mullet and carp "by the use of the hands, hook and line, or dipnets less than six feet in diameter," at any time of the year.

Sarto A.C. Take Am Vets Sunday

Defeating the Am Vets 7 to 6, Sarto A.C. opened their first game of the season with a victory at the Palo Alto Veterans hospital Sunday.

Otteneo was on the mound for the Sarto team (formerly the Colma Boys Club) and was under control throughout the game.

Howard Heffron took honors for the day, driving in Sarto's only homer.

Joe Sarto, team backer, said his boys might have done better, but the field was so hard none of the players took a chance on sliding for a base. One of the Am Vets wasn't as careful, and he ended the game with a sprained ankle.

Sarto is to play Horsetrader Ed's this Sunday. Time and place was not available at publishing time.

Fin Tags Worth From $5 to $50 To Fishermen

The fin tag from a king salmon he caught last month in Sacramento river brought a $25 cash prize to Antonio M. Fagnones of Route 8, Box 1590, Sacramento.

The fish was among those tagged February 26 by members of the San Francisco Tyee Club in cooperation with the Division of Fish and Game. Rewards of $5 to $50 are offered fishermen returning tags bearing secretly-recorded numbers.

In addition to eligibility for part of the $500 in cash awards, on-operating sports and commercial fishermen are presented with a $1 reward from the Division of Fish and Game or the tags mounted in a plastic commendation card.

Buyers Snap Up Bank Stock

Pleased over the success of an unprecedented undertaking, President L. M. Giannini of the Bank of America has announced that the bank's offering of more than $70,000,000 of new common stock to the shareholders has been substantially oversubscribed.

The project attracted approximately 115,000 separate subscriptions for about 3,750,000 shares in response to the offering of 3,523,896 shares under the plan which expired Thursday, June 1.

It is described as the largest of stock in banking history, and was offered without underwriting or managers except for a standby arrangement with Dillon, Read & Co. Inc., for a maximum of 100,000 shares, an arrangement which will not be utilized in view of the oversubscription. In carrying out the offering, members of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., were invited under an informal plan of compensation to assist shareholders in entering their subscriptions; securities dealers were very helpful in this respect.

The surface of the present Salton Sea, in Imperial county, is 287 feet below sea level.

Market Basket To Open Second Store

Due to unforeseen developments, the opening of the second Market basket store at 6318 Mission street, will be held on Thursday, June 15, instead of tomorrow, Friday, as announced last week.

At the time the previous story was released, it was understood from all concerned that the necessary preparations would be finished before Friday, but more time was required.

Nevertheless, the gala opening will be one of the most interesting yet staged by a food emporium, it was learned from Tony Burkard and Bud Holmes, the proprietors. There will be moments for all of the ladies and children and baskets of food will be given away every hour on the hour from morning until evening.

Gardenias will be pinned on members of the fair sex while the young fry will be treated to ice cream, and other goodies to keep them amused, the management made known.

Meanwhile, there will be demonstrations of the latest food developments, conducted by representatives of the manufacturers and distributors.

As for the market, it will be complete in every detail, according to word from the owners. There will be a meat, fish and poultry section.

Their aim, they revealed, is to carry a full line of cuts, especially desired by members of this community. Moreover, they stress they will dispense quality at the lowest figures.

With brand new and the very latest refrigeration systems obtainable, they said that all their products will be fresh and tasty to the last morsel.

Regarding the groceries and produce, Bud and Tony already have created an enviable reputation at their first Market Basket, located at 5901 Mission street.

They have been in business there for more than a year, building good will and a name for fair dealing, premised on a score of years in handling foodstuffs hereabouts.

"We believe we know what it takes to serve the people satisfactorily," said Tony and Bud. First, we handle recognized brands, and secondly, we make as an attractive display as possible.

"Furthermore, we feel we must be satisfied ourselves, with the merchandise we stock, and to that end we sample and approve everything that goes on our shelves.

"Again, we know that the average person buying foods is exacting, much more so than with the average purchase, therefore we take that consideration into account.

"If he or she isn't pleased with an item, we try to do the right thing about it, accepting the decision offered, rather than arguing the merits, pro and con.

"At this point, we want to emphasize that our new store will have the most efficient equipment

Psychology May Now Offer Everyone
The Magic Key To Successful Living

Want to be the life of the party, successful in love or a whiz at business (sans ulcers)?

Psychology doesn't promise this in six easy lessons, but it has found what may be the key to some of the factors that determine these things, according to Dr. Marion Wenger, psychologist on the Los Angeles campus of the University of California.

Our personalities, temperaments, and the degree of success we achieve in life all are partly tied in with two branches of nerves which make up our autonomic nervous system. The two branches that we could find on the market today. Our cooling systems, and we have many, are precise and to a point.

"They will keep the foods therein, at an even temperature 24 hours around the clock, thus preserving the freshness and taste to the last minute.

"As for accessibility, we believe we have just about eliminated all lost motion. Customers should be able to move in and out of the store with little if any delay.

"You know that has become an important detail today. That's why we spent plenty of time on working out a fast moving procedure from start to finish."

In closing, Tony and Bud promised a surprise for all those who attended the opening of the New Market Basket. They issued a cordial invitation to everyone in this neighborhood.

are known as the sympathetic and para-sympathetic systems.

Dominance of either system may produce extreme personality and emotional types. Dr. Wenger points out. Intermediary relationships produce better adjusted personalities.

These systems control our reactions by triggering mechanisms that release such chemicals in our bodies as adrenalin, digestive juices, blood sugars, and hormones. They also indirectly control circulation, peristalsis, and other body functions.

Reactions give us the key as to how the patterns of the two systems are arranged. They also furnish clues as to how psychosomatic disorders such as peptic ulcers, asthma, high blood pressure, and hives, develop.

Although the patterns of the two nerve branches are predetermined in part by genetic factors, they may be altered by environment. By determining their relationship in the individual, psychology may be able to deal with his personality problems and to treat psychosomatic disorders more effectively.

Many Applicants For Vet Home

Although the Veterans Home of California, located in Napa county, is growing steadily in capacity through a long-range postwar building program, disabled veterans in San Mateo county are reminded by Floyd D. Granger, Veterans Service Officer, that it is still necessary to make advance arrangements for admission.

The waiting list at the Veterans Home is currently averaging between 150 and 200 veterans, most of them seeking domiciliary care.

Granger warned veterans that it is of no use whatever to travel to the Veterans Home and "camp on the doorstep." Except for emergency hospitalization cases, admissions are controlled by the waiting list.

Those who are interested may obtain application forms and detailed information from the Veterans Service Office at the courthouse, Redwood City.

The requirements for admission are the same as those governing admission to a Veterans Administration home or hospital, with the added provision that the veteran must have been a bona fide resident of California for 10 years immediately prior to the date of application.

At present the membership of the Veterans Home averages 1,470. It is administered by the State Department of Veterans Affairs, Colonel Nelson M. Holderman, who was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor during World War I, is the Commandant.

Los Angeles county is one of the original 27 counties of the state.

BRAKE LINING LIFE DEPENDS ON DRIVER

Service authorities are called upon to answer a lot of unanswerable questions, points out the National Automobile club. One of the most common of these is: "How long will a set of brake linings last?"

The longevity of the lining depends upon a number of factors, some of the most important of which the drive controls entirely. One of the most significant of these is the manner in which the car is handled. Some drivers make two stops to another's one. These two stops, moreover, may be of sufficient violence to equal six or eight on the other driver's part insofar as lining wear is concerned. How many miles, or months, a set of linings will last, therefore, is beyond the possibility of knowing so far as the service man is concerned.

Step From High School Into Navy

The Navy assures qualified high school graduates of a course in one of its many vocational schools upon completion of their basic recruit training. Each graduate who qualifies may have an opportunity to serve in the surface, air or submarine branch. In addition to basic submarine and airman schools there are over 30 other schools available.

You will be interested, also, to learn that more than 40 per cent of the officers serving in the Navy today are former enlisted men. This means that there are real opportunities for advancement through the enlisted channels.

The Navy affords excellent opportunities in training, education, world travel, adventure, good pay, retirement benefits and security, added to free food, clothing, medical and dental care. To help you plan your future you are invited to examine the United States Navy Occupational Handbook in your school library. In the meantime you are encouraged to stay in school, graduate and go on to college if you can—and join the United States Naval Reserve.

Complete information about the regular Navy and the Naval Reserve can be obtained by telephoning or visiting the U. S. Navy Recruiting Station at Post Office Building, San Mateo. Phone DI 4-2781.

Opera Star Sings At Shasta Opening

Florence Quartararo, San Francisco-born star of the Metropolitan Opera company, will make five concert appearances on the Shasta Centennial program, it was announced today by George Heinz, executive secretary to the California Centennials Commission.

Miss Quartararo will sing at the formal dedication of Shasta dam on the afternoon of June 17 and also the night before, when an elaborate fireworks display will be set off from Shasta Lake behind the dam, and the first full flood of water over the giant spillway will be lighted with huge colored floodlights.

In addition, the popular coloratura will lift her golden voice in three appearances with the Shasta Calvalcade, the pageant which the California Centennials Commission is staging the nights of June 16-17-18 in the new athletic stadium of Shasta college. Miss Quartararo will appear in a "Gay Nineties" scene, singing songs popular in that colorful era.

This will mark Miss Quartararo's third appearance in centennial celebrations of her native state. Last summer she sang at both Columbia and Monterey.

The surface of the present Salton Sea, in Imperial county, is 287 feet below sea level.

Some Vet Widows Eligible For Loan

Unmarried widows of veterans who died as the result of service in World War II are made eligible for GI home, farm and business loans under the terms of instructions issued by Veterans Administration to its field offices.

Such unmarried widows became eligible for VA-guaranteed loans as the result of one of several amendments to the GI loan provisions contained in the recently-enacted housing Act of 1950.

Eligibility requirements for such widows to receive GI Loan Guarantees in general parallel those governing loan compensation payable to widows of World War II veterans.

The veteran must have served in the armed forces at some period between September 16, 1940, and July 26, 1941, and his death must have been a result of service while on duty, or from service-connected causes following discharge, and provided that the widow must not have remarried following the veteran's death.

Widows who are eligible for GI loan benefits by virtue of their own service in the armed forces receive no additional benefits as widows.

GI loans for home, farm or business purposes are made by private lending institutions, with VA guaranteeing the lender against loss on a portion of the loan.

One of the recent amendments authorizes VA to make direct loans to widows for home purchases after July 19, 1950, in localities where mortgage financing at a percent interest is not available.

San Francisco's municipal railway is making headway on its program to improve service for residents and visitors alike.

To speed up Market street service, a turnback loop will be installed so trolley coaches can turn right from Market into 4th street, operate along Mission and return to Market at 5th street. During the evening rush hours the vehicles will be turned back over this loop to provide a more even distribution of available coaches.

The turnback system for Market street is scheduled to go into operation September 7 and will have the effect of placing uncrowded buses in service for passengers from 5th street west.

Marion D. Mills, the railway's transit expeditor, has outlined to the Public Utilities Commission plans for a new transfer system which will be formally presented for approval this week.

SOCIAL SECURITY

By E. J. FOLEY

Two plans to protect older people from want are included in the Social Security Act. They are called old-age and survivors insurance and old-age assistance.

Each of these plans serves a special purpose. They differ from each other in the way they operate and in the way they provide protection.

Old-age and survivors insurance is for workers. This insurance helps wage earners to provide an income for themselves and their families when death or old-age cuts off wages. It is a federal plan, and its provisions are the same in all parts of the country.

Old-age assistance helps people after they are old and in need. Through it, each state, with federal help, provides for its needy aged.

Benefits under old-age and survivors insurance are paid as a matter of right, without regard to the individual's savings or other resources. Old-age assistance, on the other hand, is payable only to those who can prove they are in actual need.

The Social Security Administration is the federal agency in charge of the old-age and survivors insurance system. To learn more about this plan, you should write to the social security office, at 42 North B. Street, San Mateo.

Anyone wishing to inquire about old-age assistance should go to the nearest public welfare office, or write the Social Service Division, Court House, Redwood City, Calif. My office is at your disposal for all matters connected with old-age and survivors insurance.

The objective of old-age and survivors insurance is to pay benefits on the basis of the worker's earnings. Therefore, the Social Security Administration must have a record of the pay each worker receives.

This record is kept in the form of a separate social security account for each worker. To have an account, the worker must have a social security account number card. The worker's name, together with the number on the card, identifies his account so that wages reported for him can be properly credited to his account.

If you are employed in a mill, factory, office, store, bank, garage, hotel, cafe, boarding house, beauty parlor or the like, you should have an account number card. You need it whether you work full-time or part-time, whether you are old or young.

You can get a social security card from the office of the Social Security Administration at 42 North B. Street, San Mateo. Or, you can get an application from your local post office, fill it out, and mail it to the social security office.

Show your card to your employer and make sure he writes down your name and social security account number exactly as they are shown on your card. This is necessary for the reports he must make to the government, showing the wages he has paid to you.

Take care of your card. It is like an insurance policy. It shows you have an insurance account with the U. S. government, under the old-age and survivors insurance system. This account is a record of the pay you receive which counts toward your future benefits. The size of the benefit will depend upon the amount of earnings credited to your account.

1,054 Children Aided In County

Aid was provided for 1,054 needy children in San Mateo county during April, 1950, compared with 457 for April, 1949, California Taxpayers' association reported today.

Included in the April, 1950, figure were 932 children in family groups and 122 children in boarding homes and institutions.

Aid for the needy children in the county reached $56,958 for April, 1950, compared with $26,136 for April, a year ago.

Of the total aid to needy children in the county during April, 1950, $13,183 came through the federal treasury, $26,283 through the state, and $12,268 from the county. In addition, the county provided $5,224 of supplemental aid to children during April.

Throughout the state, aid was given for 112,671 needy children in April, 1950, compared with 55,323 for April of last year, the association said. Of the 112,671 children receiving aid in California during April of the current year, 104,494 were in family groups and 8,176 were in boarding homes and institutions.

Total aid payments for needy children in the state during April, 1950, reached $5,498,319, compared with $2,806,984 for the same month in 1949.

Of the $5,498,319 aid paid for needy children in California during April, 1950, $1,427,829 was in federal funds, $2,539,799 was in state funds, and $1,234,882 was in county monies. In addition, the counties provided $262,114 in cash supplemental aid and $13,715 in supplemental aid in kind.

"Throughout California, there were twice as many children look-

$1,500,000 S. M. Synagogue Plan

Plans for a $1,500,000 synagogue for South San Mateo were revealed today.

Site for the structure will be adjacent to the Gymkhana club property and facing the Alameda de las Pulgas.

A fund-raising campaign is now underway by the Peninsula Temple congregation, which currently holds its meetings at the Seventh Day Adventist church in San Mateo.

The date of construction depends on the success of the fund-raising drive.

Architect J. Lloyd Conrich said ing to government for support in April, 1950, as there were in April, 1949," the association said.

plans call for a small assembly hall, seating about 350 persons, plus six to eight smaller rooms which would serve as Sunday school classrooms and for social activities.

The second part of the program would call for a $75,000 administration building, while the third part would be the synagogue, to accommodate from 1,500 to 2,000 worshippers.

Brother, Can You Spare a Dime

By Ridgely Cummings

Last Sunday afternoon I had occasion to walk down Sutter street from Polk to Powell. It was a pleasant day although a little windy and I was wearing what I call my racetrack topcoat. I bought it in a moment of weakness, in a department store with artful lighting.

In the daylight this coat looks like a vari-colored horseblanket and gives me a false appearance of prosperity.

Maybe that explains what happened but I don't think so. Anyway three times in those half-dozen blocks I was pan-handled. All three of the men were sober and two of them were able-bodied.

I'm not writing this to brag about being generous for I'm not. I always feel a little embarrassed for the individual when he asks me for a dime but I have a rule of my own never to turn them down if they are sober and courteous and never to give them anything if they are drunk or belligerent.

Well, I remember thinking that it looks like hard times are around the corner; but then I went in to the Press Club and met some friends and forgot about the incident. Or at least pushed the thought into the back of my mind. Until just now when a document landed on my desk which reminded me of it again.

Impressive bit of paper. It was a copy of a speech Harry Truman made to congress on April 6th last. The speech is a "five-point program for strengthening our federal-state unemployment insurance system."

STUDY WITH CARE

Remembering the three men who were hungry last Sunday afternoon, I read the president's speech with more care than I usually devote to such political broadsides. It was worth the trouble.

Truman pointed out that legislation of the 30's had set up a two-part system of social security: 1) a nation-wide employment service to help workers find jobs and employers find job-seekers; and 2) a nation-wide system of unemployment insurance to help tide workers over periods of unemployment.

That we know already. Here comes the part that fits in with the three men. I quote:

"In recent years, up to one million more persons have come into

Petroleum Co. Praised For Work

The California Optometric Association today commended the General Petroleum company for its work in curbing the growing number of auto accidents caused by inadequate vision among teenagers, according to Dr. Roy Swain of Ukiah, president of the optometric group.

As part of a compulsory course in safe-driving for California high school students, General Petroleum is furnishing equipment for visual tests—including judgment of distance and visual acuity—in an effort to determine the visual fitness of the person to drive.

A resolution recently adopted by the optometrists states that the General Petroleum Corporation is to be highly commended for its work in increasing highway safety at the high school level.

the labor market each year, looking for work, than have left the labor market."

Each year, the man says in effect, a million persons are added to the ranks of those looking for jobs. More quotes:

"Part of the new group entering the labor market this year will be the largest number of college graduates in our history—some 500,000 young persons, including about 250,000 veterans. In addition, of course, a large number of high school graduates will also be looking for jobs."

What a picture. Even in hard times there are shifts in employment opportunities and considerable turnover due to layoffs, retrainments, personality disagreements and so forth.

It strikes me as a sort of giant game of musical chairs. The man who gets out of his chair for one reason or another sees a score of others ready to jump into it and finds himself one of thousands dashing around looking for a new chair.

But that's not all. In addition, as most economists and businessmen know, new equipment and new techniques have made it possible for the same number of workers to produce more. Truman puts it this way:

"Our labor force has increased, our productivity has increased, but the number of jobs has not kept pace."

Truman urges strengthening unemployment insurance as a solution. I go along with him on that but it seems we need more.

What we need, says Cummings, is shorter hours at the same pay in order to spread the jobs. Otherwise this million a year will never be taken care of. And playing musical chairs can become awfully tiresome.

You can quote me on that.

DRIVER'S NO. 1 ENEMY

When driving at night, don't fail to dip your headlights when within 500 feet of an approaching automobile, thereby obeying the Vehicle Code, the code of good sportsmanship and the code of self-preservation.

Headlight glare is the Number 1 enemy of those who drive at night, declares the California State Automobile Association. Traffic checks reveal that one out of three motorists driving on the highway after dark either forgets or refuses to dim his headlights for approaching cars.

Nearly one-half of the motor vehicle accidents in California occur at night, although fewer cars are on the road between dusk and dawn. A considerable number of these accidents are attributable to headlight glare.

Motorists are reminded that headlight glare can cause temporary blindness lasting as long as three seconds for some drivers. During those three seconds an automobile traveling 40 miles per hour will have gone 176 feet with its driver unable to see other cars, pedestrians or signals.

The one millionth Studebaker built since the end of the war is driven from the company's South Bend, Ind., plant by Harold S. Vance, chairman and president, as he gets the "take it away" signal from P. O. Peterson, vice president in charge of manufacturing. Growth of the No. 1 independent among automobile manufacturers is reflected in the fact that it took from 1929 to 1942 to build 1,000,000 prewar Studebaker passenger cars and trucks. The postwar million was launched in late 1945.

USF Graduates Largest Class

The University of San Francisco will graduate its largest class in history Sunday, June 5, at 2:30 p.m. in the Opera House. University officials said 623 students will be graduated in the ceremony which marks the university's 91st commencement.

The day's activities will begin with the traditional Baccalaureate Mass at 10:30 a.m. in St. Ignatius church. The Very Reverend William J. Dunne, S.J., president of the university, will officiate at the solemn high mass. Reverend Francis Sheerin, S.J., will deliver the sermon. Students, wearing caps and gowns, faculty members, and the board of regents will parade from the university to the church. Following the mass, a luncheon for graduates and faculty will be served in the university auditorium.

At 2:10 p.m., the longest procession of graduates in the history of the school will file through the civic center gardens to the Opera House where Father Dunne will address them and announce the student honor awards. Honorary degrees will be conferred on Dr. Walsterling, president of Stanford University, and Dr. Chu Chew Shong, San Francisco educator. Movie director, John Farrow, of Hollywood, will receive the St. Thomas Moore award for outstanding work in the field of public service.

The graduating class last year numbered 350, university officials said.

Hollywood Talent For Mission Show

Topflight Hollywood talent is turning out en masse for Mission San Antonio de Padua's celebration of its restoration and re-dedication, Sunday, June 4, which is being presented by the California Mission Trails association under the supervision of Ralph B. Wright, secretary-manager.

Such stars as Ann Blyth, Joan Leslie, Sigrid Gurie, Ruth Husse, J. Carroll Naish, Pedro de Cordoba, George Baxter and Ivan Lebedeff will appear in person and also take part in the coast-to-coast broadcast of the dramatic production, "The Story of San Antonio de Padua," written by Charles Dickinson and Sid Marshall, directed by Jayme del Valle and produced by Peter O'Crotty.

Music will be under the direction of Frank Allan Hubbell who will present portions of his California "El Dorado Suite." Choral numbers will be by the combined choirs of Santa Barbara and San Luis Rey Missions. The broadcast will be released over the Mutual Don Lee Network at 5:30 p.m., PDST.

Golden Voice To Be Chosen

The golden voice of the Golden State will be chosen in a "Voice of the Fair" contest sponsored jointly by the California State Fair and 20-30 clubs throughout the state, it was announced by Ned Green, secretary-manager of the fair.

The winner of the statewide contest will be named "Voice of the Fair" and will be employed throughout the 11-day exposition in Sacramento next August 31 through September 10 as official announcer on the public address system. His salary will be $250.

Second place winner also will act as an announcer at the State Fair and will receive $225. Green said that the contest is open to all persons over the age of 18.

The 158 Twenty-Three clubs in the state are to stage preliminary contests in their own communities during the week starting July 24. The voices of local winners then will be recorded and sent to contest officials for the state final. The official "Voice of the Fair" and the runner-up will be decided in Sacramento about two weeks before opening of the Fair the last day of August.

Last year's winner, in addition to employment during the Fair, gained sufficient prestige to obtain an announcer's job in one of the top ranking San Francisco stations.

SF Now Owns All Of Funston

San Francisco now owns all of historic Fort Funston, located on the ocean front near the south boundary of the city and county.

A quit-claim deed for the last 46.7 acres has been turned over to Mayor Elmer E. Robinson by District Engineer Colonel F. S. Tandy, ending more than two years of negotiations for the property.

Previously 200 acres of the land had been deeded to the Veterans Administration for a hospital site, and as a condition for receiving the remaining acreage the city agreed to enter into a 99-year lease with the California National Guard for use of seven acres for another State Armory and a United States radar station.

On approximately 40 acres of the land the city will make its long-planned extension of Fleishacker zoo and playfield. Other city-owned land in the vicinity heretofore under consideration for extension of the zoo, will now become available for new residential, school and recreation development.

El Dorado county is one of the leading producers of high calcium industrial limestone in California.
